Bibliography with Active Citations

This bibliography includes documentation standard to any scholarly book – as well as “active citations” for certain sources. These citations, following the suggestion of Moravcsik (2010), link to online documents footnoted in Rights as Weapons: Instruments of Conflict, Tools of Power. Because such materials may not remain on the Internet forever, I have also included permanent online links to archived copies and to my own copies of excerpts from certain documents. As a result, other scholars will be able to examine my sources, probe my interpretations, and challenge my findings – all with the goal of improving replicability, reliability, and knowledge about the issues I discuss in the book.
